

Supplemental Issue on WIC— Call for Submissions to JNEB

JNEB is soliciting manuscripts for a supplemental issue on breastfeeding and the WIC Program

- WIC breastfeeding peer counseling education
- WIC breastfeeding promotion and education
- Social-cultural environmental changes to overcome barriers to breastfeeding among US WIC-eligible populations
- Best breastfeeding practices or current research related to US WIC-eligible populations

All manuscript types currently accepted by JNEB are suitable for this special supplement, including Research Articles, Research Briefs, Perspectives, Systematic Reviews, Methods, Reports, GEMs, and New Resources for review. Please see our guidelines for authors (<http://www.jneb.org/content/authorinfo>) for more details.

To be considered for publication, manuscripts must be submitted by January 10, 2017, through our peer-review site (<http://ees.elsevier.com/jneb/>) for a targeted publication date of July 2017. The cover letter should indicate that the submission is for this supplemental issue related to WIC.

For questions about this supplemental issue, please contact the Guest Editor, Madeleine Sigman-Grant, PhD, RD (msigman-grant@jneb.org) or Karen Chapman-Novakofski, PhD, RDN (editor@jneb.org).
